The score was almost as lopsided as the ball after the terrifle chastising it received at the hands of the winning Cardinal players. However, the hitting of the visitors was not as phenomenal as the remarkably poor way in which the losers fielded. Sixteen errors made by the local boys accounted for almost as many runs and the free walks that Johnny Powers, Oxy twirler, lavishly distributed, helped to swell the total.

The Bengals scored their initial two markers in the first of the sixth. Rigby, Oxy catcher, reached first on a present from Unspire Silva, when he hit infield. Then the Cardinal heaver, Teague, made the mistake of shooting one across the platter that had nothing on it buf the cover.
Johnny Powers sent it flying high, wide, and handsome over the head of Carver in center field and followed closely in the wake of Righy across the rubber.

Stanford then chased six more tallies over the plate before the Tigers scored again.
In the ninth, the Bengals counted twice before the minlature raily they started was finished. Score:

The records made in the sectional meets indicate that a large number of the State records can be broken on a track as fast as that at Occidental and it would seem to me to be a sorry thing to do to deny to these athletes the opportunity to make new records for the sake of the few additional dollars which might be attracted to the splendid new stadium."

Goodrich and Ritter Mix Up in Semi-Wind-up at Vernon Arena Tonight

A fight with powder in it is

A fight with powder in it is expected at the Vernon Athletic Club tonight, when Phil Salvadore and Buddy Soules open their swatfest. The lightweights are billed as the main event of the weekly boxing program.

While Salvadore is defending his claim to the Pacific Coast championship, he can look out of the corner of his eye and get a this-will-happen-next effect. Joe Benjamin will be at the ringside, and he insists on meeting the winner.
Salvadore and Soules are meeting for the first time. Soules is unquestionably the most dangerous puncher. Salvadore, of course, is the best boxer on the Pacific Coast.

The preliminaries are expected to be all wool and a yard wide. The semi-wind-up, between Sailor Ritter and Sunny Goodrich, colored, is exciting almost as much comment as the main go. Goodrich is the most spectacular black fighter seen her in many months, His knockout of Leo Matiock last week made him a big favorite. Ritter is known as a scrapper who always fights over his head when he tackles a black performer.

Eddie Macy and Ad Rubidoux, ancient rivals, have been added to the card as the feature preliminary. Rubidoux is the only buntam who can claim a knockout over Macy.

Al Cirimelle, an aggressive battler from San Francisco, has been substituted for Alex Me-Donald against Ted Seidman. The remainder of the program follows:

Ted Schneider vs. Eddie Bowen, heavyweights; Frankle Fierney vs. Kid Mack. 133 pounds; and Sammy Johnson vs. Pete Nelson, 128 pounds.

Johnston's Determination Should Win Out

BILL IS AFTER TENNIS LAURELS

Johnston Invades French and English Links

Will be Handicapped by a English Courts

Opposition This Time Will Not be Strong

BY WILLIAM T. TILDEN, Vorld's Tennis Champion 1920-21 [EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH,] PHILADELPHIA, May 7.—Little

Bill Johnston has sailed for Europe. In these few words tennis history may well be written. He has left America to journey to France and England in quest of the hard-court England in quest of the hard-court and grass-court championships of the world.

Will Johnson win? This query will be a potent sporting puzzle until time solves the riddle.

Many factors enter into this consideration. First Johnson, on his previous trip to England, while successful and recognized as one of the greatest players in the world, did not do himself full justice. He was not the awe-inspiring, devestating Johnston of America. Knowing Billy as I do, I am sure that the determination to show his true worth will aid Bill to reach his best form abroad this trip.

MOIST-STICKY

Becond, the climate of England and France, moist and sticky, is very different from sunny California, with its dry wramth. Johnston, therefore, will be forced, to play under conditions which he does not particularly like.

Third, the plugged seamed tennis ball used in France and England does not suit Johnston's terrific hitting. The harder you drive a Stazenger or Williams ball the less result you obtain. It is a poor substitute for our Spalding. Wright and Ditson or Pennsylvania Rubber Company ball, with its plugless center and seamless, stickless cover. This is one of the most dangerous obstacles in Johnston's path to the title. However, with his craft and resouce, coupled with the fundamental soundness of his game, he should rise above it.

GODD 'UNS MISSING
Fourth, there is the entry list.
This year Johnston will not face the stern oppesition of former seasons, for Gerald N. Patterson, J.
O. Anderson, Zeno Simizu and Manuel Alonzo will be among the absentees. However, America is sending two great players to compete, as well as Little Bill himself, in Vincent Richards and Francis T. Hunter, both of whom will be a real problem to Billy in England. Henri Cochet of France; B.
J. C. Norton, Randolph Lycett and Col. A. R. F. Kingscote of England, will be other factors to be recognized and reckoned.

Fifth, neither St. Cloud nor Wimbledon have that business-like atmosphere that is meat and drink to Little Bill. He plays better under the terse tenseness of America than in the more social placidity of the foreign courts. GODD 'UNS MISSING over the fence last, meaning the tail.

That is no fit or appropriate role for the fastest growing city in Christendom, and many have faith that it will not continue. On the face of the surface returns, however, one need be a superoptimist to think otherwise.

But let those who regard this as the darkest hour in the ball club's career pause and consider the conditions. Knowing none of the conditions personally, the club having been gone three weeks, I take the word of another apparently familiar with the facts, that there is no dissension in the club.

Doc Crandall was one of those mentioned as dissatisfied and aspiring to Krug's job. Doc, who has been incapacitated by boils until now, proved where he stands by letting San Francisco down with one run in his first game. Crandall after a long career and fine service, was deeply hurt by these reports, as were Deal and Griggs. lastic track and field meet to be held at Patterson Field, Occidental College, next Sat-

Not only will it draw a wrday.

Not only will it draw a galaxy of great young athletes who put on a 6 string and call it a uniform, but it is hoped to raise $3000 to finance a California team to compete in the national interscholastic meet to be held in Chicago.

More than that amount could be used, as the more money available the greater the number of athletes who could be transported. It is figured that this State has at least twenty-leve men who could place in the various events of the national meet.

It was pointed out in this column Sunday that eleven of the twenty-seven recognized national interscholastic records are held by California athletes.

These laureds should not be allowed to wither.

H. R. Hy Everding, one of our very best fans, writes from Portland giving his regards to all the gang at the local ball yard. Hy evidently has been hob-nobbi gwnth some of the Ninety-first Division boys, as be says: "According to H. B. Critchlow and Kenneth Adams, floors of some of the houses at Montiny-le-Rol are uncomfortable to sleep on, while Harry Stecker says that the eye of a Seventy-five." Had been wondering what in the world become of those unregenerated birds.

Just how much effect the lose of French and Doyle will here.

Just how much effect the loss of French and Doyle will have no Vernon's prospects is problematical. For a day or so following the announcement the club looked rather listless, but after recovering from the first shock, it went along and won abcatt as usual.

Baseball teams in the past have lost through injuries or other means from one to three men and still continued in the running. With good pitching the club should win a fair percentage of its games. Despite the loss of French it still has a vigorous attack, while Rader is a strong defensive player and may do his share of the hitting. Essick's men have lost only one series to date, and that to Salt Lake. It was a tough rap, yet they are still going strong.

But it isn't going to be led-was halved. At the twelfth it looked as if Jess was coming back when he made a brilliant approach after a wild second shot, but again he missed a putt, and Layton became 2 up. Just missing that putt seemed to get Sweetser's nerve just for the moment, because at the next hole he missed another eighteen-inch one for a half in four after Layton was dormie in four on the next hole when Jess was eaught in a trap on his drive and took two shots to get out. Sweetser was game to the last, however, and he tried desperately to sink a forty-foot approach shot at the fifteenth and missed by an inch. Layton won by 5 up and 3 to play.

CONCEDES ALL

CONCEDES ALL Bob Gardner went so badly that he finally got to conceding everything except hole in one to Forrester. Despite his sloppy iron play and wild driving Bob was 1 up at the turn, but at the thirteenth he started to aviate. From then on until the eighteenth he never had his feet on the earth again. At the thirteenth hole he took six and from there home his card showed four fives and enly one four. Twice on these final holes he conceded two-foot putts to his opponent. After missing similar putts he took the dizzy plunge to defeat on the home hole when his iron shot overran the green and he needed three putts to go down, while Forrester was pitching to the green on his second and holing out with two putts. Forrester won by 1 up. In spite of the elimination of these two stars the news is not at all bad from the Yankee standpoint. Oulmet won his match with A. H. Read without once extending himself. Wright won from Commander Bannerman in spite of some sloppy golf, while Johnston and Rotan played brilliantly to beat their opponents, Johnston, hitting his shots perfectly, defeated H. L. Holden by 9 up and 7 to But it isn't going to be lol-lypop lope for any club. Port-land's sudden push to the front proves this. Two weeks be-fore, Salt Lake loomed up as the dangerous club with Seat-tle coming fast. Portland stopped the Siwashes and Sac-ramento slowed Salt Lake. Thus far Los Angeles has been that part which goes hitting his shots perfectly, defeat-ed H. L. Holden by 9 up and 7 to play. Rotan played a super-bril-liant game part of the way, get-ting a 38 going out in spite of a 7 when he lost his ball at the third hole and a 6 at the fifth, due to being trapped on his second. He beat J. A. Board, 6 up and 6 to play.

Marston had to play good golf to win from Commander Miller by 7 up and 5 to play. Marston was hitting powerful drives and putting well, and should prove one of the most valuable men in the rounds to be played tomorrow.

Ouimet will meet Bernard Darwin, and though the Englishman is a good golfer, Francis should win. Rotan figures to win his match with Leslie Schon, while Marston will meet a tough man in R. H. Howts. In the lower half of the draw Johnston will have a hard match against Douglass Grant, the Anglicized American. Wright should beat D. E. Landale if he comes back to his real game. Willing and Herron look like winners.

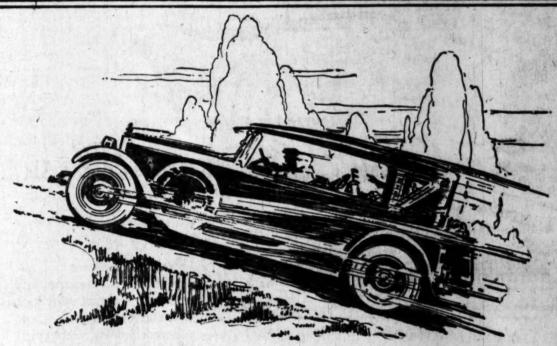

The Yankees have four strong men in the upper half of the draw in Ouimet, Rotan, Marston and Willing, and if they win their matches are due to mest Tolley and Wethered if those English stars remain in the tournament. Neither Tolley nor Wethered are at the top of their gama, however. In the lower half Johnston, Wright and Herron have Holderness, the present champion, and Layton, as the strongest British opposition.

Ouimet, Johnston, Willing and Rotan now look to be the best Yankee hopes, but the other Americans will still do their stuff to the best of their ability.

WALTER HAGEN PICKS OUIMET

Outmet has been made the favorite even over some of the English and Scotch talent. His victory in the St. George's cup made the English and the Scotch sit up and take notice. His victory would be a popular one if any of the invaders must run away with the cup. There are plenty of good men left to back up Ouimet should he fall by the wayside. Marston, Rotan, Johnson, Weight, Neville, Hunter and Herrin are all first-class golf-ers who may furnish some excitement at Deal before the week is over.

It was a sad blow to the Americans to see two of our best fall, but the morrow may see more casualties in the British ranks. Some of their blg stars may be among the missing when the results are posted. All of the field will be in action.

gasolines. One is instantaneous, crashing, detonating.

It smashes against the piston, hammering it down with the single blow.

Having a tendency to explode prematurely, detonating gasoline reduces compression. Thus power and efficiency are lowered.

"Knocking" frequently is the result of detonating gasoline, especially on hills.

And the increased vibration means increased wear and

There are two kinds of explosions from sion. The impulse is sustained, thrusting your piston throughout the entire stroke.

This permits increased compression, for compression is limited by the tendency of a gasoline to detonate.

And efficiency and power increase with added compression.

Try It on Hills

With Union Non-Detonating Gasoline your car will improve on hills. It provides a new "lift"—steady, sustained power.

You'll also note new speed on the level, new rush in the pickup and less vibration at all times —less wear and tear.

Also there is a saving in fuel due to higher efficiency. So there are many advantages in this better gasoline.

Union is always uniform. It doesn't disinte-grate, thus doesn't deteriorate in storage. All the power that goes into it at the Union plants is there to use when you want it.

Mexico City Sends Experts To Combat Disease

the State of Sinaloa has sent a report to the Secretary of Agriculture stating that a serious plague of fever has appeared among the herds of cattle of the region and has already caused a large number of deaths. The epidemic has appeared in many of the largest haciendas of the State, causing great alarm to the ranchers, who fear that they may suffer serious losses.

Attacked In Appeal Supreme Court Is Requested

To Remove Ban

Let Federal Statute Rule, Plea of Plaintiff

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCE.] WASHINGTON, May 7.—The right of national banks to establish branches and the validity of State laws prohibiting, such branches were argued today before the Supreme Court, which is in special

The case involves the question of whether banks operating under charter from the Federal government are subject to restrictions imposed by States in which they are located. It was brought by the First National Bank of St. Louis on an appeal from the decision of the Missouri courts, which held that national banks must conform to the State law prohibiting the establishment of branch banks.

ELEVEN STATES JOIN ELEVEN STATES JOIN

Eleven States, which have statutes similar to that in effect in Missouri, were permitted by the court, as friends, to intervene in the suit and file briefs. Some of these States also have laws prohibiting branch banking by State institutions. The States which joined in the suit are Arkansas, Connecticut, Iowa, Wisconsin, Illinois,

UNDER FEDERAL LAWS

Declaring that it was solely under the jurisdiction of the government, the bank further argues that there are no Federal laws prohibiting it from establishing branches. The Federal and not the State law must govern in the case, the bank argues.

Missouri and the eleven intervening States, however, asert in their briefs that branch banking is thoroughly undesirable that it is objectionable in every respect from a public standpoint and that it is detrimental to the best intervents of the public and should be done away with.

might by Leslie B. Henry of Blyth, Witter & Co., who addressed the class in investments of the college of commerce, U.S.C.

Through the workings of the California law, which taxes securities originating outside the State, it was shown that not only did it tend to keep capitalists from becoming citizens of California, but it is a large factor in inducing citizens of this State to conceat their assets, and thus avoid all taxation.

Tax-exempt securities were declared by the speaker to be unincipalities borrowing this money. The apparent savings in interest the apparent savings in interest which are made by the municipalities borrowing this money, he asserted, was more than oheet by the increased amount of faxes which the people of these municipalities have to pay, and by the increased rate of money which is charged private corporations.

This also, it was asserted, "applies to farm mortgages, and the difference between the rate for money obtained in a fair competitive market and that obtaining under the handicap of tax-exemption as applied to one class of securities is the indirect taxation which borrowers pay in increasing millions annually."

BOND QUOTATIONS

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]
NEW YORK, May 7.—Bond prices moved downward in today's relatively dull trading, all of the active United States government themselves to the terms of the new issue.

Some of the gilt-edge railroad mortgages held fairly firm, changes in this group being generally confined to the more speculative issues. St. Paul, refunding4½s were off 1½, the convertible 4½s 1, and International Great Northern adjustment 6s, certificates, 1½. Rock Island general is were up 1½.

Losses of a point each were recorded in the industrial group by Punta Alegre Sugar 7s. Northern State Power 7s, Eastern Cuba Sugar 7½'s, Cerro de Pasco 8s and Virginia Carolina Chemical 7½s with warrants, Marland Oil 8s with warrants, declined 2 points. Public Service of New Jersey 5s were in demand, advancing a point.

	Total sales, par value, were 210,000.	$16,-

The Virginian Railway

Equipment Trust 5% Gold Certificates, Series D

Dated May 1, 1923. Due in fifteen equal installments of $380,000 each, annually on May 1 of each year from 1924 to 1938, inclusive. Certificates not redeemable before their respective maturities. Bearer certificates of $1,000 denomination, registerable as to principal only. Dividend warrants payable May 1 and November 1. Issued Under "Philadelphia Plan."

BANK OF NORTH AMERICA AND TRUST COMPANY, PHILADELPHIA, Trustee.

The Virginian Railway Company unconditionally guarantees payment of principal and dividend warrants by indorsement on each certificate.

These certificates will be issued for not to exceed 75% of net cash cost of new standard equipment, comprising: 15 mallet type locomotives, of 101,300 pounds tractive power each; 1000 120-ton flat-bottom gondola steel coal cars; and 500 70-ton hopper-bottom steel coal cars. The net cash cost of the equipment will be not less than $7,600,000, of which the Virginian Railway Company will make an initial payment of 25%, or $1,900,000.

During the seven-year period ended December 31, 1922, income available for interest on funded debt and for dividend warrants was equivalent to a yearly average of 2.73 times the

The growth of the Virginian Railway Company's business and earning power is indicated by the very large increase in earnings during the ten-year period from 1913 to 1922, inclusive. Total operating revenues increased $13,166,860, or 225%; income available for interest on funded debt and dividend warrants on equipment trusts increased $3,122,166, or 131%, while interest on funded debt and dividend warrants on equipment trusts increased only $732.568, or 54%.

there was no accompanying news in business and industry to indi-cate seriously disturbing events in the near future.

cate seriously disturbing events in the near future.

"There is no particular cloud on the business horizon," Arthur Reynolds, president of the Continental and Commercial Bank, said on returning from New York today.
"The break in the stock market seems simply to be the rise of over-onthusiastic professional operations which pushed securities too high and and could not unload. The recent issuance of new securities also may have been somewhat too large for public absorption.

"Bank losas are not unduly high—in fact, they are not appreciably higher than last winter, according to our own records. Furthermore, the loans to our country correspondents have shown a steadily declining tendency. This trend would belie recent talk that country banks have greatly expanded their loans, for if such were the case they would scarcely be reducing their loans with their city correspondents.

"There is some slowing down in their loans, for if such were the case they would scarcely be reducing their loans with their city correspondents.

"There is some slowing down in business, but this is not an evilthough it has furnished stock market ammunition. But this very slowing down, the conservation and caution being shown, the halt in the upward march of commodity prices, all are good things and make for an even stronger situation that a month or two ago. Aside from the gyrations of the securities markets, general conditions are excellent and the future appears satisfactory."

Several more price declines in commodities appears doday, with cotton and crude oil the chief factors. Cotton slumped $5 to $8 abale in New York on reports of heavier arrivals, better weather for the new crop and less demand for cotton goods. Prices generally now stand 4 to $1\frac{1}{2}$ cents below the prevailing prices of March.

Crude-oil prices again were reduced from 5 to 10 cents a barrel. The cut was 10 cents for Wyoming and Montana oil, making the third reduction in two weeks. Texas crude was reduced 5 to 10 cents a barrel, while midcontinent was cut 5 to $ cents. Reason for the recent sharp declines is found in overproduction, Gasoline production iz. March was $630,701,365 gallons, a new high record, while stock on hand at the end of the month totaled 1,259,209,171 gallons, an increase of 123,000,000 gallons for the month.

The announcement of the new government financing made a good impression today in financial circles, particularly the fact that the Treasury needs only $400,000,000 for refunding the Victory Bonds. The effect of the 4\% per cent interest rate for the new notes, which was predicted in this column last week, was to cause weakness in the market prices of the Liberty 4\%, which had been selling at prices to yield around 4\% per cent.

A Word on Economics and Los Angeles

JURRENT types of economic opinion on Los Angeles have a common origin—some variant, each one, of a stream of thought which goes far back to the mid-19th century of America's open country, and small towns. Opinions formed out of the clods and dust of an America which was exploitative. An economic opinion mirror-ing two well known lines out of our histories in our grammer school days:
"First—abundant, natural resources;

second—a scanty population; third—every individual has a right to work out his own salvation."

H. J. Mallen & Co., Inc., do not hold such economic opinions. We are reminded? that in 1823 there was not a railroad or telegraph or telephone or electric light in America or Europe—travel was a precarious and wearyful undertaking. When Samuel Morse, painter and inventor, tried to get from Washington, D. C., to New Haven, Connecticut, to the bedside of his dying wife, it took him seven days. The battle of New Orleans, with all its terrific slaughter, was fought in ignorance of the fact that weeks before, peace had been signed between England and America in the city of Ghent,

From the days of Babylon, even back since our Neolithic forefathers, nothing he taken place which so completely and in s short a time changed the method and manner of living of the human race, as mechanical revolution of the nineteenth

The day of the individual working for himself, alone, is gone—our whole syst so inconceivably intricate, and so close articulated, that dislocation in one part affects all the rest.

Modern Economics is a big subject room for it here. Some day we'll wri an essay on it. We DO wish to regis the fact that Los Angeles is the enviro for a new phase of civilization which be master and not slave to "wheels."

Big things will happen here are happening now-inconceivable to the school of economic opinion.

In all her fields of development Los Angeles needs more men at the helm us to operating in terms of millions of doll and millions of people. We need accus journalists, independent of advertising solicitations-we, here in Los Angeles, an milling at a big job.

This is not . iticism aimed at anyonethe men at the "cad of things are doing nobly, do not receive the encouragement they have earned.

Keep this in mind—Los Angeles is not New York or Chicago—it is distinctly LOS ANGELES. There are terrifically large financial events ahead of us. Extraordinary opportunities for your monies to earn much, and safely, and constantly.

Get your monies into LINCOLN MORTGAGE stock-or something equally as good-prepare for the large profits which will accrue from the earnings of the COMMON.

Who Is Nate Parris?

IN 101 days Nate Parris acquired almost $2,000,000 worth of properties for his unit holders and also paid them a 50% dividend. He is one of the leading oil operators of Smackover. He has proved his integrity and ability. Thousands of his friends who failed to get in on his first Syndicate now have another chance. He has just organized the

Nate is young, ambitious, enthusiastic. He knows oil and oil properties. And he knows Southern Arkansas like an open book.

At the close of the war Nate sensed the opportunity in oil. He was one of the first to reach El Dorado after the discovery of oil. His industry and ability opened the way for him to become one of the big factors in the development of the oil fields of Southern Arkansas. He knows the territory. He has the confidence and respect of the entire community. Everybody, from the workers in the field to the land owners and the big operators, hail Nate as their friend. They are proud of him and his success and are anxious to aid him on to even greater success.

During the past ninety days Nate Parris has become a national figure in the Oil Industry. Scattered over the entire country are men and women who are unit holders in his first Syndicate—the Nate Parris Smackover Syndicate. They all know Nate and his slogan, "Look for Nate Parris—He pays and Pays and PAYS!" They have come to know him as a man of his word. A man who makes good.

Nate Parris Says:

IN LOS ANGELES

"My record speaks for itself. It tells my whole story. From a standing start I have, in three months, built up a producing oil company worth nearly $2,-000,000. I have 18 producing wells. One of my gushers tested out 13,000 barrels the last time I gauged it, and that oil is bringing $1.45 a barrel at the well. I have already paid a 50% dividend to my unit holders and on the 15th of this month my books close for another "pay-off." I expect to pay the largest dividend that ever went out of Smackover. And, remember, I have accomplished this in a little over three months.

"I expect to do better-to accomplish more in a shorter space of time for my new Nate Parris Smackover Leasing Syndicate. I aim to make it more profitable to my unit holders than the No. 1 Syndicate.

"I have fulfilled all my promises in the past. I have made good to my unit holders. Already I have had a flood of letters and telegrams from folks who have heard that I am going to start a new Syndicate. The issue is small and I expect it to be subscribed very quickly."

On his new syndicate—the la Parris Smackover Leasing Syndia —Nate Parris declares he expe to do even more for his as than he has done for his No. 13

Optimism at Panuco
Oil operators of the Gulf Coast region of Mexico are optimistic as to the future production possibilities of the more northern territory, especially of the Panuco district. The low record of production made during the month of February was more than made up during March. The total exports for last month were 12.222.292 barrels, as company was able to retain its lead as an exporter, and increased its shipments by approximately 54,000 barrels in March over the previous month. The Cia Mexicana Ho Ladensa la Corona kept its place as second on the list.

Silk Supremacy for California

Sunshine and Silk

Silk manufacture is an industry in which the Climate affects the Profits. In Southern California the climate is exactly right, both as to temperature and humidity, for this industry. Back East, heating plants are necessary. This heat dries the silk so much that it must be moistened and, consequently, humidifying plants must also be installed. Elimination of these costly plants will enable a mill in Southern California to manufacture silk at a lower cost than Eastern

75th Thousandth Foster Dividend Check

Foster Dividend Check No. 75,001 was mailed out yesterday. It was for $158.65. It happened to go to a prominent Los Angeles citizen—to be the 28th consecutive dividend he has received from us, making a total of $5,979.97 we have paid him in dividends.

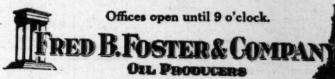

Men who have paid that many dividends from wells they themselves have drilled-on acreage purchased by themselves-should know where and how to drill oil wells.

Having a reputation to preserve—instead of one to get should mean that when they buy a piece of acreage, it will produce oil-and is worth every dollar they pay for it.

For the five-acre Santa Fe Springs lease that belongs to their Yankee Syndicate and adjoins the ground on which sits the 6000-barrel Russell Well, the Fosters paid $100,000. They are drilling two wells upon it—each well being capitalized at $200,000—every Yankee unit sharing forever in both wells.

Those are a few of the reasons why shrewd investors-men who are receiving dividends each thirty days, in some instances, on six different Foster syndicates—are buying Yankee units.

> The time to buy Yankee units is TODAY before they soar in price. Today's orders will be filled at $100 each.

For several days according to Constable D. R. Fullerton, Wheeler had been acting strangely around his little bungalow where he had lived as a hermit for two years. He had been gassed while serving in the overseas forces and had come to California to regain his health.

His home was ir the rear of the residence of Clifton Burch, on Wilcox avenue, and he earned his living by selling trophies which he carved from wood and by pruning fruit trees.

Early last Sunday night he borrowed a revolver from a neighbor. He explained that he was going gopher hunting. Shortly afternoon yesterday, Mr. Burch heard two shots in Wheeler's cabin. Smoke was rolling from the windows.

Mr. Burch found Wheeler on a bed. He was dead and a quantity of flaming rags had been arranged around his body. Other burning rags were found in a quant armchair which Wheeler had made with his pocket knife. The flames were extinguished and the young hermit's body was removed to the undertaking pariors of Keith and White, in Lankershim.

Wheeler was 30 years of age. Constable Fullerton is attempting to locate the disabled veteran's relatives. His mother is said to reside in Massachusetts and friends stated a sister lives in New York.

He appeared yesterday in Judge Shenk's court and on motion of Dep. Dist.-Atty. Powell, four counts of a complaint growing out of his escape from the County Jail October 17 last, were ordered off the court calendar by stipulation of defense and prosecution counsel.

He was charged with assault to murder Menry Purrier, a guard on duty at the time of the escape; of robbery of L. M. Storey, a mail carrier; grand larreny of the same man's car, and kidnaping Storey and E. Bean, the latter also a mail carrier.

Realty and building transactions completed yesterday by various local architects and real firms include the sale of business property near the intersection of Fifth and Hill, the addition of several stories to the building adjoining the Southern California Telephone Company on the north, the construction of a huge warehouse on Alameda street and the erection of a steel frame for a new local industry. According to the correspondent of The Times at Sacramento the present Legisla-ture has been breaking all records for enacting trivial and half-baked legislation. That is difficult for one to grasp who is familiar with the enormous amount of such bills that have received legislative sanction during the last ten years. And it suggests that it is part of the plan of the "old gang" to put the Governor in a hole.

They are determined on revenge for the ruthless manner in which he has thrown so many of the gangsters out of State jobs And their near-diplomats have figured that, in such a mass of legislation, some of it is likely to slip by the Governor, bringing dis-credit upon him and his administration when the unwise nature of the law is ex

The Governor.

It was a part of the Progressive program during former years to encourage experimental legislation. Their leaders were convinced that the past was wrong, that there were better forms and institutions of government than those provided under the laws and constitution of California. They were led by fanatics who were convinced that they knew much better what was good for the people than the people themselves knew. They were incorrigible theorists and never in agreement, which accounts for the great number of contradictory laws that were placed on the statute books.

was inevitable that I should meet many of the most distinguished women of our time. In my newspaper work, in my years of suffrage work with the forces that won the great fight, in my gaddings over the face of the earth, I seem in fact to have met most of them. With some, of course, the meetings were casual and the acquaintance very light. Others were drawn into the circle of my closest friends. So it is not because I leved and admired anna Howard Shaw and knew her well that I consider her great. I have loved and admired and known well many distinguished women of today and other days. Nor it is because she led our suffrage campaigns. Indeed, during the years when Dr. Shaw was president of the National Women's Suffrage Association, and I was working with her so closely, another of my dear friends was president of the Anti-Suffragists!

SINGER BRINGS DELIGHT AT BEBUT HERE

Not all thrills in music are for the ears alone. Some are for the eyes as well, and when the art of prima donna puts me in a lib

a prima donna puts me in a liber! mood, I enjoy both. For which reason I may say that at the moment I am voting for Rosa Ponselle, who made her presence known to the public here for the first time last night at Philharmonic Auditorium. She is the entertainer de luxe of the season, for she does not rely solely on the appeal of a glorious voice. She gives the casual sightseer something to think about as well, if she does not actually make him feel the need of a pair of amber spectacles.

I don't want to shout all over the place about her beauty or any-thing like that, because she hasn't beauty in a conventional sense, but she has as much dazzlingness as any singer that has been heard here in several seasons, and her voice seems to surround her with an aura of intensified fascination. The audience yielded absolutely to her presence and her song, and ap-plauded her for three safe encores after every group, and even asked for more, which is as bountiful a tribute as any songetress could de-sire.

Her program was one of those brilliantly varied affairs, in which the setting is the gold of the unfamiliar, and the jewels are operatic arias that enable the star to flash the full depth of her vocal resources. The encores offered what is pleasing to those who crave inscription of sentiment. Even so familiar a favorite as "Home Sweet Home" was introduced at the close by Miss Ponselle, herself playing the accompaniment.

duced at the close by Miss Ponseile, herself playing the accompaniment.

Under ordinary circumstances I would have shied away from some of the banslities like Tosti's "Goodby." It is bad enough to hear this song at any time, but especially when the words, "farewell to summer," din rather insistently on your ears on a night that is warm with the approach of June.

But Miss Ponselle seemed to endow with an especial meaning even this worn-out song. If I were guessing at what lay behind her interpretation I would say that it was a tribute to Caruso, for she gave the deepest emphasis imaginable to the words.

I found very charming her rendition of "Maria Wiegeniled" with its serene feeling, by Max Reger; the "Chanson Novegienne," by Felix Fourdrain: the exquisite "My Lovely Celia," by Glies Higgins, and "Erros," by Grieg.

The operatic arias like "Pace, Pace, Mio Dio" from "La Forza del Destino," the aria, "Suicidio! in questi fieri momenti," and a selection from "Don Carlos," (an encore) that brought some of the most enthusiastic applause that has been heard at any concert this year.

One cannot but relish to golden flow of this singer's voice. There are times when she is absolutely magnificent, and her tones are never lacking in a bigness and vibraracy that fills the auditory nerves with delight. There are undoubted traces of the Caruso influence in the way she uses her tree mendous powers, and though she never indulges in any breaks in sone, such as the famous tenor did, she is lavish with the richness of her song.

William Tyroler accompanied effectively, and was warmly received.

MISS ANGLIN VIVID MAKES "WOMAN IN BRONZE"

FINE DRAMA By Grace Kingsley

Has the mantle of Sarah Bern hardt so soon descended? It would almost seem so, when you view Margaret Anglin in "The Woman in Bronze" which opened Woman in Bronze" which opened to a capacity house at the Mason last night. There were whispers of that sort all around me. I had been thinking it, even before I heard the whispers. And then there was Gaston Glass in the audience, once in Mme. Bernhardt's company.

"I kept thinking of Bernhardt!" he said, as we walked into the foyer.

"I kept thinking of Bernhardt!" he said, as we walked into the foyer.

There is the same poignancy of emotion, the same tigerishly feminine power, the same depth of humanness that belonged to Bernhardt.

Miss Anglin rises quite above her play. She epitomizes womanhood torn by love and jealousy and pity and concern for her beloved. Now that we have seen her in this, how we hope for some of the classics from her.

Just to tell the story of "The Woman in Bronze," wouldn't be enough. Maybe you'd smile. Many New York crities did smile, I understand.

Well, human nature is naive! And this is pretty stark human rature at times. So stark that you feel occasionally that you cannot bear another moment of it.

There are indeed some of the old stock characters—the villain trying to seduce the girl—the husband wayward against his will, the girl who sins (only she doesn't wear a misery cloak) even the imminent chee-ild!

The only difference is that Margaret Anglin and her company make you believe them! And the playwright, too. He has ingeniously devised many striking moments of ironic drama.

The play is finely written as to lines, with many very smart ones, and the adroitness of certain situations make up for certain other obviousness and perhaps for even the stock characters. And, then there and the adroitness of certain situations make up for certain other obviousness and perhaps for even the stock characters. And, then there is a wealth of characters—all so cleanly drawn that you are forced to believe in them.

The ending is as unsatisfying as that of "The Lady or the Tiger!" You never learn which woman really wins the hero in the end!

Miss Anglin is terrific, magnificent, subtle, never failing in her emotional touch, and sometimes most wounderful in her moments of by-play, without a word.

The remainder of the company is always adequate, sometimes very fine. Second acting honors are divided between Harry Minturn as Leenard Hunt, the wayward husband, whom we saw last in "The Sign on the Door" with Marjorie Rambeau, and Max Montesele, who makes the role of Patrick Griggs, friend to everybedy, live so vividly we feel we may meet him any day. Janet Cameron, as Sylvia, is a wee bit disappointing, due apparently to her not being quite the type. However, her work is good, except that she seems a triffe overcoached.

as we have become accustomed to.

"The Little Cottage," which probably headlines the bill, is familiar from recent visits. It has been snapped up some, however, and proves to be still a very good vaudeville attraction.

"Rainbow's End," the very last act on the bill, is a novelty that is winning quite a little approval. The offering consists of a series of posed pictures, with living models, entirely different from the usual presentation of this kind.

Opening the bill with an exhibition of cleverly executed stunts on the Roman rings are Snell and Vernon. They, too, are familiar figures hore.

The remaining acts are all musical, with Fred Hughes, a Welsh tenor, ranking with the best of them. Horace Wright and Rene lletrich present an offering of new songs, and Wylle and Hartman of the subject of matrimony, rather humorously.

PONSELLE CONCERT

SINGER BRINGS DELIGHT AT BEBUT HERE

By Edwin Schallert Not all thrills in music are for the wars alone. Some are for the a prima donna puts me in a liber mood, I enjoy both. For which reason I may say that at the moment I am voting for Ross Ponselle, who made her presence known to the public here for the first time last night at Philharmonic Auditorium. She is the entertainer de luxe of the season, for she does not rely solely on the appeal of a glorious voice. She gives the casual sightseer something to think about as well, if she does not actually make him feel the need of a pair of amber spectacles. prima donna puts me in a lib

the need of a pair of amber spec-tacles.

I don't want to shout all over the place about her beauty or any-thing like that, because she hasn't beauty in a conventional sense, but she has as much dazzlingness as any singer that has been heard here in several seasons, and her voice seems to surround her with an aura of intensified fascination. The audience yielded absolutely to her presence and her song, and ap-plauded her for three safe encores after every group, and even asked for more, which is as bountiful a tribute as any songstress could de-sire.

"Home Sweet Home" was introduced at the close by Miss Penselle, herself playing the accompaniment.

Under ordinary circumstances I would have shied away from some of the banalities like Tosti's "Goodby." It is bad enough to hear this song at any time, but especially when the words, "farewell to summer," din rather insistently on your ears on a night that is warm with the approach of June.

But Miss Penselle seemed to endow with an especial meaning even this worn-out song. If I were guessing at what lay behind her interpretation I would say that it was a tribute to Caruso, for she gave the deepest emphasis imaginable to the words.

I found very charming her rendition of "Maria Wieseniled" with its serene feeling, by Max Reger; the "Chanson Novegienne," by Felix Fourdrain: the exquisite "My Lovely Celia," by Giles Higgins, and "Eros," by Grieg.

The operatic arias like "Pace, Pace, Mio Dio" from "La Forza del Destino." the aria, "Suicidio! in questi fieri momenti," and a selection from "Don Carlos," (an encore) that brought some of the most enthusiastic applause that has been heard at any concert this year. One cannot but relish to golden flow of this singer's voice. There are times when she is absolutely magnificent, and her tones are never lacking in a bigness and vibrancy that fills the auditory nerves with delight. There are undoubted traces of the Caruso influence in the way she uses her tremendous powers, and though she never indulges in any breaks in gone, such as the famous tenor did, she is lavish with the richness of her song.

William Tyroler accompanied effectively, and was warmly received for his playing of the "Love Destit" from "Titten and Isode".

FLASHES

By Grace Kingsley Has the mantle of Sarah Bern hardt so soon descended? It would almost seem so, when you view Margaret Anglin in "The Woman in Bronze" which opened Woman in Bronze" which opened to a capacity house at the Mason last night. There were whispers of that sort all around me. I had been thinking it, even before I heard the whispers. And then there was Gaston Glass in the audience, once in Mme. Bernhardt's company.

"I kept thinking of Bernhardt!" he said, as we walked into the foyer.

There is the same poignancy of

There is the same polgnancy of emotion, the same tigerishly feminine power, the same depth of humanness that belonged to Bernhardt.

Miss Anglin rises quite above her play. She epitomizes womanhood torn by love and jealousy and pity and concern for her beloved. Now that we have seen her in this, how we hope for some of the classics from her.

Just to tell the story of "The Woman in Brenze," wouldn't be enough. Maybe you'd smile, Many New York critics did smile, I understand.

snough. Maybe you de smile, any New York critics did smile, I understand.

Well, human nature is naive! And this is pretty stark human rature at times. So stark that you feel occasionally that you cannot bear another moment of it.

There are indeed some of the old stock characters—the villain trying to seduce the girl—the husband wayward against his will, the girl who sins (only she doesn't wear a misery cloak) even the imminent chee-ild!

The only difference is that Margaret Anglin and her company make you believe them! And the playwright, too. He has ingeniously devised many striking moments of ironic drama.

The play is finely written as to lines, with many very smart ones, and the adroitness of certain situations make up for certain other obviousness and perhaps for even the stock characters. And, then there is a wealth of characters—all so cleanly drawn that you are forced to halleys in them.

stock characters. And, then there is a wealth of characters—all so cleanly drawn that you are forced to believe in them.

The ending is as unsatisfying as that of "The Lady or the Tiger!" You never learn which woman really wins the hero in the end!

Miss Anglin is terrific, magnificent, subtle, never failing in her emotional touch, and sometimes most wounderful in her moments of by-play, without a word.

The remainder of the company is always adequate, sometimes very fine. Second acting honors are divided between Harry Minturn as Leonard Hunt, the wayward husband, whom we saw last in "The Sign on the Door" with Marjorie Rambeau, and Max Montesele, who makes the role of Patrick Griggs, friend to everybedy, live so vividity we feel we may meet him any day. Janet Cameron, as Sylvia, is a wee bit disappointing, due apparently to her not being quite the type. However, her work is good, except that she seems a trifle overcoached.

"Rainbow's End," the very last act on the bill, is a novelty that is winning quite a little approval. The offering consists of a series of posed pictures, with living models, entirely different from the usual presentation of this kind.

000 for the city's share instead of $1,500,000.

The new viaducts, of the cost of which the city will pay one-fifth, are proposed for Aliso, Macy, First, Fourth, Seventh and Ninth streets, and the remainder of the cost will be borne by the street roilroads, railways and county. The viaducts will replace the outworn and inadequate bridges, and end the grade-crossing nuisance at these points. The addition of $500,000 to the issue was suggested on as to permit a more complete job.

should have twelve or more well educated persons either voted in for a special term, or nominated by the Mayor. This would do away with all confusion attendant various trials, and would e'iminate Illiterate jurymen and women.

I think this system would be fair and successful if care was taken, in the selection. As it now is, persons are often chosen that are not capable of deciding anything, let alone important affairs of the city.

If we are to progress, we should not be afraid to give new ideas a trial, at any rate. It is only fair and proper, and I'm sure improvements are always in order.

Frequently lines are transposed, or omitted, or mixed in such a way that one must do some guessing to arrive at the meaning; and too often the guessing is in vain.

However, this condition has its compensations, as for example, I found in a paragraph in the issue of the 2nd inst.

After reading part of the account of the liness, and operation of Dr. Noyes and operation of Dr. Noyes was suffering from a large number of books on chemistry, and has been contributing papers dascribing (sic) original research in theoretical, analytical and organic chemistry to estentify the condition described above arouses my sincerest sympathy.

LOS ANGELES. May 4—[To the Editor of The Times:] I have waited some time before addressing this letter to you, especting editorial in your columns which would make it unnecessary. However, to date, I have not been able to find any reply to the recent challenges of Admiral Williams. Simus to the American press or even an investigation started to inquire into the truth of his assertion and the control of the date of the City Club of Los Angeles on April 3, made the astonishing declaration, according to the press report, that "there is no suthentic record of an atrocity ever having been perpetrated by the commander of a German submarine." The admiral is quoted as further sport, that "there is no suthentic record of an atrocity ever having been perpetrated by the commander of a German submarine.
